TICNS

VIRGINIA TRAUMA-INFORMED COMMUNITY NETWORKS

VA TICN Updates

- Lift Up Virginia (LUV) Campaign

- Fairfax CSB and TICN took the lead on LUV Campaign with some federal funding
- A shared campaign among TICNs that uses friendly, positive, hopeful, and inclusive messaging about the science and value of empathy, community-building, and connection, and honors the different ways we learn to love
 - There will be social media graphics, radio ads, flyers, translated into different languages;
 - Provides information about the impact of ACEs and Positive Community Experiences across the lifespan and information for how to mitigate impacts of ACEs;
 - Customizable for different communities; Can add in community-specific data that relates to your town, city, community, etc.
 - Can be a good way to be consistent across TICNs for Resilience Week
 - No one has to use it, it's just a resource that's available to use if helpful; is free and accessible to use
- Next steps:
 - Develop website and promote across the state.
 - Will launch on May 13th during a statewide conference

VA TICN Updates Continued...

Update on Virginia Department of Social Services (VDSS) Funds

- VDSS received $1 mil to support TICNs from federal relief money:
 - $500,000 to go to one network to do public awareness and professional development from May 1, 2022 to April 30, 2023
 - Other $500k likely to start July 1 and support more networks
- They still don't have any budget approved at this point; right now in a holding pattern waiting for General Assembly
- As soon as they get the green light, will award first 500k, then will have conversations about best way to support networks
